Residence Burned—Child Burned—Fell Dead—First Ice—Railroad Sold—Big Warehouse—The Shoot—Court Callings.

Residence Burned at Oakley.

The handsome new dwelling house of Mr. Jno. L. Moseley, at Oakley, built about a year ago at a cost of $3000, was burned at 3 p. m. Sunday, with much of its contents. All of the family excepting Dr. G. G. Moseley were away from home. Dr. Moseley and Joe Jackson were sitting in one of the front rooms reading when one of them glanced to go out on the back porch for a drink of water and discovered the roof of the ell room, around the kitchen chimney to be in flames. No means of putting out the fire were at hand, and they could only save what they could of the contents. The neighbors soon gathered in and helped in this work and a good portion of the furniture was saved. Mr. Moseley estimates his loss at $3,500. The house was insured for $1,500, but there was no insurance on the contents.

Circuit Court Callings.

Commonwealth cases claimed the attention of court last week and as a result the force at the pen will be considerably increased.

Griffy Ross, col., charged with feloniously breaking store house, was sentenced to 18 months.

Bob Tevis, col., malicious cutting, was convicted of cutting in sudden heat and passion, and given 12 months in the work house. Tevis cut a butcher at Gracey named Walpole, about a month ago.

Chambers Stepp, col., charged with gaming, was released by his bondsmen and committed to the jailer for safe keeping. He will be tried this week.

Two prisoners have already been sent to Eddyville and the four others convicted at this term will be taken off this week, and the remainder of court will then be taken up with civil matters.

How's This For Getting There?

As an instance of the phenomenal growth of the tobacco trade in this city, Messrs Gaither & West, in addition to the immense warehouse in which they do business at the corner of Ninth and Campbell streets, have just closed with Messrs. Forbes & Bro. to erect for them the largest tobacco warehouse in the state outside of Louisville. It will be built on the lot opposite Ellis' ice factory, and will cover just half an acre of ground and will be three full stories high. Two immense elevators which, when completed, will doubtless run by water power will be used in hoisting and lowering the weed. Work commenced Saturday and the building will be completed July 15, '96.

A Railroad Sold.

The Paducah, Tennessee & Alabama railroad was sold at Paducah Friday to Judge J. W. Phillips, of St. Louis, by Special Commissioner J. R. Puryear, and A. B. Lamb, of Paris, Tennessee, for $1,000,000, $20,000 of which was paid in cash, the remainder to be paid hereafter as directed by the Federal court. The sale was made under order of the Federal court under foreclosure proceedings. It is presumed the road was bought in for the bondholders.

Jim Breathitt and Ollie James.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 19.—Ollie M. James, of Marion, began his series of Democratic speeches in Western Kentucky at Eddyville this afternoon, and there was a big crowd to hear him. He challenged Mr. Breathitt, the Republican nominee for circuit judge, for a joint discussion at Eddyville to-night, but he declined to accept. Mr. Breathitt spoke at Kut-tawa to-day.

Fell Dead While Swimming.

Frank Mayer, a lad of 15 years, dropped dead at the High School in Henderson last Thursday. Mayer and several other boys were swinging from a rope during recess, when the unfortunate youth suddenly fell and expired, presumably from heart disease.

Little Child Badly Burned.

One day last week the two-year-old son of Mr. George Harrison, a farmer living near Allegree, Todd county, fell into the fire and was very badly burned about the head and face and the chances are that it will die.

Democratic Candidate Withdraws.

PANICHTON, Ky., Oct. 19.—Henry Rice, the Democratic candidate for representative from this county, has withdrawn, leaving the race between J. H. McConnell, Populist, and R. R. Morgan, Republican. It will now be a close race.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

Attended By Prominent Men of the State and District.

Pursuant to announcement previously made, Major Norman, Chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee, and Hon. Attila Cox, of Louisville, a member of the same committee, arrived in the city yesterday by special train to meet and consult with representatives from each of the several counties of the Second Congressional district as to the best plan of arousing more enthusiasm in the campaign from this time on to the election.

The following gentlemen were present: L. P. Tanner, McLean county; Dr. Pete Davis, Robt. Bradley, Jno. M. Victory, Hopkins county; Dr. R. Lee Agnew, Webster county; Ed. Kelley, Hancock county; Urey Woodson, James Bozarth, J. T. Griffith, John Lydians, J. E. Rowe, Ida Robinson, Louis Bear, E. P. Millett, Davies county; O. F. Dyer, D. H. Hughes, T. R. Culver, Union county; Charles M. Mescham, Christian county. The Central Committee and others of Henderson county.

The meeting was called to order in the Pythian building and Maj. Norman presided. Reports from the various counties were called for. Reports were made of a highly encouraging nature. It was shown that harmony now prevailed and that Hardin's majority would go largely over what it would have been a short time back. The battle cry is Hardin and victory and it is going to win. It was decided to make an aggressive campaign from this time on to election day.—Henderson Gleaner.

The Shoot on Thursday.

We only had space in Friday's paper to briefly give the result of the shooting match on the first day of the fair between the Hopkinsville and Henderson Gun Clubs. This feature proved to be one of the best attractions at the fair and the closest watch which it was contested kept the interest keenly alive until the last gun was fired. The prize was a $50 gun and the local club had the satisfaction of winning it. The official scores below show that some fine records were made. For the local club the best scores were made by Wilgus and Tibbs and Hopkins and Alves were the best shots among the visitors.

Following will be found the official scores:

HENDERSON OFFICIAL SCORE.
Strachan Barrett, 14; Walter S. Alves, 17; W. A. Bradshaw, 14; J. B. S. Mercer, 15; Gus Moore, 14; W. Tibbs, 17; M. W. Williams, 15; Gordon Nelson, 15; W. A. Lowry, 15; Gabe Campbell, 15; W. A. Wilgus, 19; Ed. Hopkins, 19—total 149.

HOPKINSVILLE.

Jno. Y. Owsley, 19; Tom Carles, 14; S. C. Mercer, 15; Gus Moore, 14; W. Tibbs, 17; M. W. Williams, 15; Gordon Nelson, 15; W. A. Lowry, 15; Gabe Campbell, 15; W. A. Wilgus, 19; Ed. Hopkins, 19—total 149.

At night long sportsmen were given a banquet at Hotel Latham, at which about 60 covers were laid. There were quite a number of speeches and the festivities continued until a late hour. Referring to the entertainment, the Henderson Journal had this to say in Sunday's paper: "Before leaving this subject I want to state that no visitors were ever better treated than were the Hendersonians in Hopkinsville. Capt. Wilgus, of that city, H. W. Tibbs, S. C. Mercer and the rest were unremitting in their kind attentions. Special credit is due to Messrs. Wilgus and Tibbs. They are princes in the entertainment line, and should it ever be the good fortune of the Henderson men to get them here again, nothing will be too good for them."

Burned to a Crisp.

A three-year-old daughter of Tom Whitfield, living on Mr. J. M. Cayce's farm, near the city, was burned to death last Saturday afternoon. The child's mother was washing in the yard by a wood fire and the child got too close and her dress caught. Before assistance could be rendered she was enveloped in flames and her body was literally roasted, presenting a frightful sight. Death came to her relief in a few moments.

Lucien Cayce Touched.

The light-fingered gentry who followed several fairs in this end of the state, showed up here Saturday and one loss of a valuable gold watch is reported. Mr. Lucien M. Cayce was the loser and his chain was cut. He felt a gentle tug while in a crowd but failed to discover the thief, though he missed his watch at once. It was a valuable lady's watch, belonging to his wife. If any other parties were robbed they have not reported their losses to the police.

Not Till January.

The promoters of the prohibition movement have decided not to have the election until the last Saturday in January, 1896. They found they did not have sufficient time to canvass for names by the last of December.

OBSERVATIONS.

Improvements Going On—The Colleges as Federals of the Town—A Little More Light Wanted at the O. V. Depot.

About the darkest place this side of "Darkest Africa" is the neighborhood of the O. V. passenger depot when the moon is not shining. Just why the Council has permitted this state of affairs for so long is hard to understand. The nearest light of any kind is the electric light at Ninth and Main, but the glare from that distance only serves to intensify the pitch darkness beyond. There used to be an oil lamp at the end of the platform, but even that has fallen into innocuous desuetude, and nothing but blackness that can be sliced with a knife remains on the platform side of the depot. Even the hackmen have to carry lanterns when they go to meet trains. But for the fact that the trains carry their own headlights, there would be imminent and constant danger of running over somebody every night. This state of affairs ought to be remedied. If it is the fault of the city let the Council drop an electric light where it will do the most good. If it is the fault of the railroad, let the officials be forced to do their duty. Strangers coming into the city have to grope their way through the darkness of night, and in more than one instance people have been tied off the edges of the platform and landed on the rough stones three feet below.

Did you ever stop to think how much Hopkinsville is benefited by her educational institutions in a commercial way. It is, of course, undeniable that the public schools are constantly bringing people to town to educate their children, but the colleges are doing a work not to be overlooked from a business standpoint. There are now about 125 young men and young ladies from other places attending the two colleges and Major Ferrell's High School. Putting the school expenses of these pupils at $200 a year, that makes the city $25,000 a year that finds its way into the channels of trade. But this is not all. These young people buy their clothing and other supplies here, and it is being creative that they spend many thousands of dollars in the course of a year. The teachers, as a rule, are from a distance, and also contribute to the prosperity. Our schools are the heart of the business men should never lose a chance to give them every encouragement. They are helping to make Hopkinsville a prosperous city.

There are indications that the young men of Hopkinsville will present a pretty clean docket when the Leap Year court convenes in about ten weeks from the present time. Most of those who have been on the ragged edge of matrimony for some time, are showing a disposition to hurry up matters and get themselves into the harness before the girls again take their turn at court. After one or two more couples are tied up this fall, there will be no very aggravated cases of courtship to be carried over to the docket of 1896. By-the-way, next year is the only leap year we will have until 1904. The year 1896 happens to be one that cannot be divided by 4 or 400 and consequently it will not be a leap year.

The McPherson homestead on 15th street is undergoing extensive repairs and will soon look like a new house. It is being creased and renovated and painted anew with a light color that will very much change the appearance of the house and its surroundings.

Mr. R. M. Conway, who has stirred up the real estate business in Hopkinsville with a series of auction sales, left Saturday for Bowling Green to be gone for the week. He will return next Monday.

All over town the streets are now torn up by the workmen laying pipes for the waterworks. This is a work that causes some inconvenience, but we have one who is not so glad to be thus reminded that we are at last to have a system of waterworks.

The First Ice.

The thermometer dropped to 28 degrees Saturday night and Sunday morning there was a thin skin of ice, the first of the season.

THE CITY TICKETS.

The Republicans Will Concentrate in Five Wards.

Saturday was the last day for making nominations or filing petitions and the contests for City Councilmen can now be summed up. The Republicans make no nominations in the Sixth ward and the Democrats make none in the Fifth. In all of the other wards there are two straight party tickets.

In the First ward R. H. Holland is the Democratic nominee and R. M. Anderson is his opponent. Mr. Anderson was put on by a petition circulated by prohibitionists, but Clerk Prowse says he has been authorized to put his name under the cabin and that he will run as the regular Republican candidate.

In the Second ward J. D. Ware is the Democratic candidate. F. L. Ellis is the Republican opponent. Councilman Forbes, who was also a candidate, withdrew after his petition had been filed, in the interest of party success.

In the Fourth between Geo. D. Dalton, Democrat, and John Dinneen, Republican.

In the Fifth Councilman A. H. Anderson, Republican, has no opposition, and in the Sixth Councilman E. M. Flack, Democrat, is also conceded a walk over.

SOME DISTRICT CANDIDATES.

In the Crofton ward there is no opposition for marshal of the town of Crofton. There are two tickets for trustees of Crofton, one Republican and one Democratic.

Pembroke and Fairview each have one ticket, there being no opposition in either case.

A Sensational Case.

SUBURG, Ky., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Thomas Price, a bride of a week, attempted to commit suicide last night by taking morphine. Physicians worked with her till this morning, and finally relieved her stomach of the deadly poison.

It is said Mrs. Price, whose maiden name was Ashley, was madly in love with a young man residing in Earl-inet and who appears to have jilted her for another. Price, her husband, married her last week after much pleading for her hand. He had recently come into possession of considerable money and was eager to get married at once. Miss Ashley finally consented, after being satisfied that her old lover had deserted her. She is now accompanying young Price to Evansville, where they were married.

The joys of the honeymoon, however, did not soothe her, and, it is said, she became so despondent of despaired love, she desired to find relief in death.

Price left yesterday after having obtained his money and watch he had given her. The fact is, it delegates his new bride was weary of him already and loved another. Mrs. Price is still in a dangerous condition and her attempts are entertained of her recovery.

Bob and Alf Coming.

The incomparable entertainment afforded in "Yankee Doodle and Dixie" by the Hons, Bob and Alf Taylor, of Tennessee, is an oasis in the desert of alleged amusing things on the road. It appears from the newspapers that it ranks high over ordinary comedy, to be laughed over in a moment and forgotten, and that it addresses itself to the intellectual powers and high emotions. It is a delight to ourselves and thrills people who do not frequent theatres. Nashville audience of 4,000 that greeted their opening was said to have been an extraordinary intellectual presence, including ministers and professors and about 600 boarding college young ladies. The Constitution says the large audience in Atlanta made up of people who rarely attend theatres, and says of it: "It is not a lecture—it is not just like anything else under the sun." The Chattanooga Times says that even the peanut gallery was filled with society people, and the Knoxville papers declare the audience there to have been of the intellectual classes. The fact is, it delights all classes, and the papers are effusive in its praise. The famous brothers will appear at the Tabernacle in this City Oct. 31 for only one week. The fact is, it delights all classes, and the papers are effusive in its praise. The famous brothers will appear at the Tabernacle in this City Oct. 31 for only one week. "Why," replied his employer, with a chuckle, "there are a goodly number of them."

AROUND AND ABOUT.

NOTHING BUT NEWS FOUND IN THIS COLUMN.

Ex-President Harrison's grandson, Baby McKee, has scarlet fever.

R. V. Norton, a McCreary man, won the Democratic legislative nomination in Spencer county.

G. M. Van Leuven, convicted of pension fraud in Iowa, has been pardoned by the president.

An extra session of the Arkansas legislature is apt to be called by Gov. Clarke to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight Oct. 31.

Bishop A. G. Haygood, of the M. E. Church, was stricken with paralysis at Oxford, Ga., and will probably not recover.

Grayson Republicans nominated J. H. Rice for the legislature in lieu of Bruner, who proved to be ineffectual.

Ed Vellito, deputy marshal of Elizabethtown, was shot and killed Saturday. Lina Warren is suspected.

Frank Smith, a treasury ex-employee, was found dead on the Long bridge across the Potomac at Washington—wife, five children, no work, took poison.

The Paducah Republicans nominated a full ticket for councilman and if the Democrats don't lookout they will elect it while the Democratic factions are wrangling.

Chas. Robinson, a farmer, knocked down Abraham Bonta, President of a bank at Harrodsburg. The banker gave him the lie over a lawsuit. It happened in the court room.

An assassin fired on Councilman Henry Watson, at Mt. Sterling, Saturday night, and killed the horse he was riding. Watson got on his feet and opening fire with his pistol put the assassin to flight.

C. W. Hoeffer, a prominent Ohio preacher and a Republican member of the legislature, acknowledges writing a letter to the Democratic State Committee soliciting the sum of $1,500 for his vote for senator.

George Roberts, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Ossawatimie, Kas., with family were absent at dinner, went upstairs in the house and shot himself through the heart. He wrote a brief note, saying: "Poor health and old age answers all."

Paducah lost one of its best citizens by the death of J. C. Ballard. He was in every way an honorable man, kind, true and just. A life-long friend of the public schools, his thought and care in that direction will be missed. He was a modest yet useful life and his family does not mourn alone over his death—News.

The new U. S. gunboat "Nashville" was successfully launched at Newport News, Va., Saturday. Miss Guild and her father, Ex-Mayor George B. Guild, of Nashville, having been called home by death in the family, Miss Emma Thompson christened the boat, and Congressman Washington, of Tennessee, represented Mr. Guild in the ceremonies.

Miss Nettie Easley, a well-known young woman who lived in the family of A. B. Swearingen at Nashville, committed suicide by hanging Wednesday night about 9 o'clock. In a note on a slate belonging to one of the children of Mrs. Swearingen the young woman said the deed was done because her love for Albert Seigel, who worked on a neighboring farm, was not returned. The young woman was about twenty years old. She had been in the family of Mr. Swearingen for twelve years. She seldom went into society, preferring to stay by herself and seemed to have a particular aversion for men.

The young man mentioned in the note is in the employ of Robert Mills, about six miles out from Mt. Washington. He was an intimate friend of the Swearingen family, but so far as is known never paid his attentions to the girl.

CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Rev. J. O. Rust Discussed This Subject in a Sermon.

Rev. J. O. Rust, pastor of the Edgefield Baptist Church preached last night on the subject of the Cuban Revolution. He took his text on the story of the Good Samaritan as told in Luke x: 30-36.

The speaker first gave a description of the island, its topography, and beauty and of its natural conditions, its resources, its climate and other gifts of divine donation, and said with all this abundance of richness and located as it is in the heart of this advancing western civilization Cuba should be in a most prosperous condition. He said this was not true, however, as in fact the island was bankrupt and poor, beaten and pillaged by her oppressor. He spoke of the lack of progress and the undevelopment of the country, which was apparent on every hand. He spoke of how the island had been oppressed by Spain and said it was no wonder the women were sad, the men gloomy and the children morose. He said Spain, the oppressor of Cuba, was always the friend of royalty and ecclesiasticism. Spain has a population of 18,000,000 and 10,000,000 of them can neither read nor write. Roman Catholicism is the state religion, and Protestants are permitted to worship only in private. He said no wonder such a nation has lost all her American possessions save Cuba and that she is now being favored and recognizing by Congress the Cubans as belligerents at its next session. He declared all the conditions existed for such a declaration according to the rules of international law. He then explained those rulings in detail.—Nashville Banner.

The Fair Was a Success.

The fifth annual meeting of the fair, three days of last week, proved to be the most successful ever held. The crowds were larger, the exhibits fuller and the attractions better than any previous year. In spite of the lateness of the date, and the inclemency of the weather on the last day. While the crowds were good, they were not up to the oldtime outpourings and reunions that we used to see. In a recent number of the Farmers Home Journal Dr. C. H. Todd had an article on this subject, from which we take this extract: "I wish to say that the decadence of the 'ideal county fair' in Kentucky commenced some years ago when the amphitheatre enclosing a large circle for the exhibition of ring horses and cattle was abandoned for the grand stand and its track. Pardon me for citing an instance illustrative of this fact by reference to the history of the Lexington fair. I well remember the year the Lexington fair abandoned the amphitheatre for the grand stand a conversation I had with one of Fayette county's most esteemed and honored citizens whose bent was in the success of the county fair—when he said: 'This change will mark the decadence of Kentucky's great fair.' 'An ideal county fair' requires some fifty acres of land, an amphitheatre enclosing a circle for the exhibition of ring horses and cattle, a floral and agricultural hall, a grand stand and half mile track, sandy grove, fine music, side show of all kinds, small admittance, all vehicles and horses free, no gambling and everything done for the comfort and pleasure of the crowd.

"The future for 'the ideal county fair' in Kentucky was never brighter. The time has come when the horse business of Kentucky will no longer go after false gods, but they will realize the fact that it is to their interest to enter their horses in every ring of all the ideal county fairs in their vicinity."

Dr Todd will be borne out by every one who can call to mind the glorious days prior to the war when the fair was looked forward to year after year with anxious of the great pleasure of the people of this and neighboring counties.

Those happy days that people love to call to mind. We there had a splendid amphitheatre and magnificent rings of show horses, trotting and saddle horses throughout the day.

The fair company became discouraged and the old amphitheatre was torn down and the grounds were platted and sold into town lots not long ago. If our fair directors would replace the amphitheatre with another one and return to the old-fashioned fair, with its big pumpkins, its baby shows and its all day program and dinners on the ground, and hold it early in September, we would probably see more of the old-time crowds and county reunions.

TOBACCO NEWS.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.

Reported Oct. 16, '95, by J. H. Eggleston, of Alfred Lewis & Co., best dealers.

Receipts smallest for the season, sales very light, and no change in prices from last week; quality very poor were the leading features of the week. The 1895 crops all cured up a very good color, and need rain, but had to make crops run. Some of the farmers think the tobacco will not weigh out so well as the 1894 crop did. But the 1895 crop has more spread of leaf and length and will be much more desirable than the 1894 crop with the worm cut in it, which will make good snuff tobacco, and kind all the markets have been very bare of it for several years. I think the damage from worm cut and frost will not have any effect on prices on this market. However it is the unexpected that happens in the tobacco trade.

Tom In Bad Company.

CENTRAL CITY, KY., Oct. 19.—The Hon. Tom Pettit, the Populist party's candidate for governor, spoke here to an audience of fifty-seven in actual count at this place to night. Mr. Pettit was introduced by Mr. M. L. Ward, one of the most extreme Republican speakers in the county, and this is the only more comment than Pettit's speech.

Take Vitall's Liver Pills.

The convention of the Kentucky bankers association to meet in this city next Tuesday will bring together about one hundred and fifty of the financiers of the state—a gathering of men of affairs such as has never before assembled in Owensboro. The association includes in its membership nearly every banking institution in the state and this will be representatives of every section of the old commonwealth. It will be the bankers' "day off" and while questions of deep import will be discussed in the business sessions, the members will be here to enjoy themselves.—Owensboro Messenger.

Mixed Relationships in Indiana.

There has been another marriage between the Rays and Lucases at Deputy, Jefferson county, Ind., and thereby the relationship in these much-related families are even more tangled. Marion Lucas and Lillian Ray have been married. Ray's brother-in-law thereby becomes his son-in-law. Ray is both his own son-in-law's brother-in-law and father-in-law. Mrs. Lucas becomes her father's sister-in-law, and her children will be both niece and nephew and grandchildren to her father. Pursuing the relationship along a different line, Addison B. Ray, being father to Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, and also to their brothers and sisters, and being by law a brother to them, becomes his own father.

THE HEART OF A KING.

French Royalists Venerate This Relic of Louis XVII.

Publicity has been given to a singular ceremony which took place recently at Neuilly-sur-Seine. BRADLEY AN A. P. A.

Startling Information About the Republican Candidate.

While in Louisville last week we heard a very interesting story of how Billy Bradley, in search of votes, became a member of the secret political organization known as the A. P. A. The story comes from a member of that order and bears every semblance of truth upon its face, and the informant says Bradley will not deny it. He says that a certain lodge of the A. P. A. in Louisville decided by a vote to support Pettit for Governor, and as soon as this was done a certain well known hotel man who is Republican and an A. P. A., sent a man to Tompkinsville with word to Bradley to come to the city quick on important business; that Bradley canceled his appointment to speak at Tompkinsville and came to the city. This hotel friend took Bradley to a conference with some of the leading A. P. A.'s in the city, and that he (Bradley) remonstrated with them for throwing their votes away on Pettit and urged them to support him. One of the conferees said: "Mr. Bradley what assurance have we that if we support you and you are elected Governor, that you will not appoint Catholics to offices?" Bradley promised that he would not do this, but this did not satisfy them and finally he said, as an evidence of good faith he was willing to join the order, and that night he took the oath and was regularly initiated. Our informant says that Bradley will not deny that he is an A. P. A.

AROUND AND ABOUT.

NOTHING BUT NEWS FOUND IN THIS COLUMN.

A Condensed Account of the Latest Happenings Tensely Told for Story Readers.

Ex-President Harrison's grandson, Baby McKee, has scented fever.

Mrs. Truxton Beale, Blaine's daughter, has left her husband.

T. M. Morrow has leased the Hustler at Jackson, Ky., and will run it in future.

Gardner county Republicans have nominated Wright Kelly for representative.

Jas. T. Willis, one of Gen. Jno. H. Morgan's captains, is dead at Williamson, Ky.

R. V. Norton, a McCreary man, won the Democratic legislative nomination in Spencer county.

G. M. Van Leuven, convicted of pension fraud in Iowa, has been pardoned by the president.

An extra session of the Arkansas legislature is set to be called by Gov. Clark to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight Oct. 31.

Bishop A. G. Haygood, of the M. E. Church, was stricken with paralysis at Oxford, Ga., and will probably not recover.

Gravson Republicans nominated J. H. Rice for the legislature in lieu of Bruner, who proved to be ineligible.

Tom Vellito, deputy marshal of Elizabethtown, was shot and killed Saturday. Lmas Warren is suspected.

Frank Smith, a treasury ex-employee, was found dead on the Long bridge across the Potomac at Washington—wife, five children, no work, took poison.

The Paducah Republicans nominated a full ticket for county officers and if the Democrats don't look out they will elect it while the Democratic factions are wrangling.

Chas. Robinson, a farmer, knocked down Abraham Bonta, President of a bank at Harrodsburg. The banker gave him the lie over a lawsuit. It happened in the court room.

An assassin fired on Councilman Henry Watson, at Mt. Sterling, Saturday night, and killed the horse he was riding. Watson got on his feet and opening fire with his pistol put the assassin in flight.

C. W. Zieffler, a prominent Ohio preacher and a Republican member of the legislature, acknowledged writing a letter to the Democratic State Committee soliciting the payment of $1,500 for his vote for senator.

George Roberts, a prominent and wealthy citizen of Owensboro, Kas., and his family were absent at dinner, went upstairs in the house and shot himself through the heart. He wrote a brief note, saying: "Poor health and old age answer all."

Puduch lost one of his eyes by the death of Mr. T. C. Ballard. He was in every way an honorable man, kind, true and just. A life-long friend of the public schools, his thought and care in that direction will be missed. His was a modest yet useful life and his family does not mourn alone over his death.—News.

The new U. S. gunboat "Nashville" was successfully launched at Newport News, Va., Saturday. Miss Guild and her father, Ex-Mayor George B. Gould, of Nashville, were called home by death in the family. Miss Emma Thompson christened the boat and Congressman Henry G. Guild in the ceremonies.

Miss Nettie Easley, a well-known young woman who lived in the family of A. B. Swearingen at Mt. Washington, committed suicide by hanging Wednesday night about 9 o'clock in a note on a slate belonging to one of the children of Mrs. Swearingen the young woman said the deed was done because her love for Albert Seigel, who worked on a neighboring farm, was not returned. The young woman was about twenty years old. She had been in the family of Mr. Swearingen for twelve years. She seldom went into society, preferring to stay by herself and seemed to have a particular aversion for men.

The young man mentioned in the note is the son of Robert Willis, about six miles out from Mt. Washington. He was an intimate friend of the Swearingen family, but so far as is known never paid his attentions to the girl.

CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Rev. J. O. Rust Discussed This Subject in a Sermon.

Rev. J. O. Rust, pastor of the Edgfield Baptist Church preached last night on the subject of the Cuban Revolution. He took his text on the story of the Good Samaritan as told in Luke x. 30-36.

The speaker first gave a description of the island, its topography, and beauty and of its natural resources, its climate and other gifts of divine donation, and said with all this abundance of richness and beauty it is in the heart of this advancing western civilization Cuba should be in a most prosperous condition. He said this was not true, however, as in fact the island was bankrupt and poor, beaten and pillaged by her oppressor. He spoke of the lack of progress and the undevelopment of the country, which was apparent on every hand. He spoke of how the island had been oppressed by Spain and said it was no wonder the women were sad, the men gloomy and the children wretched. He said Spain, the oppressor of Cuba, was always the friend of royalty and ecclesiasticism. Spain has a population of 12,000,000 and 10,000,000 of them can neither read nor write. Roman Catholicism is the state religion, and Protestants are permitted to worship only in private. He said he would wonder such a nation has lost all her American possessions save Cuba and Porto Rico. Mr. Rust favored recognizing by Congress the Cubans as belligerents at the next session. He declared all the conditions existing for such a declaration according to the rules of international law. He then explained those rulings in detail.—Nashville Banner.

The Fair Was a Success.

The fifth annual meeting of the fair, three days of last week, proved to be the most successful ever held. The crowds were larger, the exhibits fuller and the attractions better than any previous year. This in spite of the lateness of the date, and the inclemency of the weather on the last day. While the crowds were good, they were not up to the oldtime outpourings and reunions that we used to see. In a recent number of the Farmers Home Journal Dr. C. H. Todd had an article on this subject from which we take this extract: "I wish to say that the decadence of the ideal county fair in Kentucky commenced some years ago when the amphitheatre enclosing a large circle for the exhibition of ring horses and cattle was abandoned for a grand stand and its track. Pardon me for citing an instance illustrative of this fact by reference to the history of the Lexington fair. I well remember the year the Lexington fair abandoned the amphitheatre for the grand stand a conversation I had with one of Fayette county's most esteemed and honored citizens—one whose heart was in the success of the county fair—when he said: 'This change will mark the decadence of Kentucky's great fair.' 'An ideal county fair' requires some fifty acres of land, an ample theatre enclosing a circle for the exhibition of ring horses and cattle, a floral and agricultural hall, a grand stand and a half mile track, study grove, fine music, side shows of all kinds, small admittance, all vehicles and horses free, no gambling and everything done for the comfort and pleasure of the crowd.

"The future for the ideal county fair in Kentucky was never brighter. The time has come when the horse breeders of Kentucky will no longer go after false gods, but they will realize the fact that it is to their interest to enter their horses in every ring at all of the ideal county fairs in their vicinity.

Dr Todd will be borne out by every one who can call to mind the glorious days prior to the war when the fair was looked forward to year after year with emotions of the greatest enthusiasm by the people of this and neighboring counties. It was a grand event. We then had a splendid amphitheatre and magnificent rings of show horses, trotting and saddle horses throughout the day.

The fair company became discouraged and the old amphitheatre was torn down and the grounds were planted and sold into town lots not long ago. If our fair directors would replace the amphitheatre with another one and return to the old-fashioned fair, with its big pumpkins, its baby shows and its all day program and diners on the ground, and hold it early in September, we would probably see more of the old-time crowds and county reunions.

TOBACCO NEWS.

HOPKINSVILLE MARKET.
Reported Oct. 15, '96, by J. H. Eggleston, of Ala.
Receipts smallest for the season, notes very tight, and no change in prices from last week; quality very poor were the leading features of the week. The 1895 crops all cured up a very good color, and need rain very bad to make colors run. Some of the farmers think the tobacco will not weigh out so well as the 1894 crop did. But the 1895 crop has more spread of leaf and length and will be much more valuable than the 1894 crop with the worm in it, which will make good snuff tobacco, a kind all the markets have been very bare of for several years. I think the damage from worm out and frost will not have any effect on prices on this market. However it is the unexpected that happens in the tobacco trade.

Take Vitalia Liver Pilla.

The convention of the Kentucky bankers' association to meet in this city next Tuesday will bring together about one hundred and fifty of the financiers of the state—a gathering of men of affairs such as has never before assembled in Owensboro. The association includes in its membership nearly every banking institution in the state and there will be representatives of every section of the commonwealth. It will be the bankers' "day off" and while questions of deep import will be discussed in the business sessions, the members will be here to enjoy themselves.—Owensboro Messenger.

Mixed Relationships in Indiana.

There has been another marriage between the Rays and Lucases at Deputy, Jefferson county, Ind., and thereby the relationship in these much-related families are even more tangled. Marion Lucas and Lillian Ray have been married. Ray's brother-in-law thereby becomes his son-in-law. Ray is both his new son-in-law's brother-in-law and father-in-law. Mrs. Lucas becomes her father's sister-in-law, and her children will be both niece and nephew grandchildren to her father. Pursuing the relationship along a different line, Addison B. Ray, being father to Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, and also to their brothers and sisters, and being by law a brother to them, becomes his own father.

THE HEART OF A KING.

Publicity has been given to a singular ceremony which took place recently at Neuilly-sur-Seine, in the course of which a reliquary was handed to Count Urban de Maille, representing the Duc de Madrid, by M. Edouard Drumont, in the presence of a group of legitimist notabilities and a notary. This reliquary, says the London Telegraph, consisted of a crystal orliform vase, opening in the middle and surmounted by a fleur-de-lis in copper gilt. In it was suspended a dried human heart, and at the bottom of the vessel were some pieces of broken crystal. The heart, it certain documents and traditions to be accepted, was that of Louis XVII., and the proceedings opened with the reading of an autograph letter from Don Carlos, in which the writer thanked Mr. Drumont for the homage which he had paid to this precious relic of the royal martyr, which he, the prince, accepted in order that it might be deposited in the chapel of the castle of Froehsdorf.

As in such a matter everything depends upon the genuineness of the relic, the solemn declaration of the donor was regarded as a pious proof of its royal origin. He affirmed, raising his hand as Frenchmen do in a court of law, that the heart was certainly the one which he had inherited from his mother, and that it came into her possession from the hands of M. Gabriel Pelletan, for his turn had treasured it for fifty-three years, he having rediscovered it at the archbishop's and recognized it as the one which his father had intrusted to Mgr. de Quelan.

M. Pelletan had, it appeared from documentary evidence, made so bold as to abstract the heart of the young king when he conducted a post-mortem examination of his body upon his death in the Tour de Temple, by order of the comite de surete generale. The doctor preserved the heart as an object of adoration and veneration, and on the return of the Bourbons endeavored to restore it to royal keeping. Circumstances, however, were against him; but immediately before his death, in 1828, he supplicated by letter Mgr. de Quelan, then archbishop of Paris, to receive the treasure, in order that it might be handed to the royal family.

Then came the revolution of 1830, and with it the sack of the palace. The vase was broken in the courtyard by one Lescaort, who was ignorant of its value, and he carried away merely the papers which were found with the vessel; but, subsequently, by his aid, M. Gabriel Pelletan recovered the fragments of the shattered vase, which still bore the number seventeen and the stars mentioned in the receipt which had been given by the archbishop. Further search revealed in a heap of sand the royal heart, which retained the odor of the spirits of wine in which it had been for so long preserved.

BRADLEY AN A. P. A.

Starting Information About the Republican Candidate.

While in Louisville last week we heard a very interesting story of how Billy Bradley, in search of votes, became a member of the secret political organization known as the A. P. A. The story comes from a member of that order and bears every semblance of truth upon its face, and the informant says Bradley will not deny it. He says that a certain lodge of the A. P. A. in Louisville decided by a vote to support Pettit for Governor, and as soon as this was done a certain well known hotel man who is Republican and an A. P. A., sent a man to Tompkinsville with word to Bradley to come to the city quick on important business; that Bradley canceled his appointment to speak at Tompkinsville and came to the city. This hotel friend took Bradley to a conference with some of the leading A. P. A.'s in the city, and that he (Bradley) remonstrated with them for throwing their votes away on Pettit and urged them to support him. One of the conferees said: "Mr. Bradley what assurance have we that if we support you and you are elected Governor, that you will not appoint Catholics to office?" Bradley promised that he would not do this, but this did not satisfy them and finally he said, as an evidence of good faith he was willing to join the order, and that night he took the oath and was regularly initiated. Our informant says that Bradley will not deny that he is an A. P. A.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

Dr. G. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchinson,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

M. A. ACKER, M. D.,
211 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their delicate practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

PARADISE OF WOMEN.

A Country Where Men Are Subservient to Their Wives.

Family Life Among the Ladaehs in Full of Bewildering Complications—The Children Recognize the Mother and Abjure Their Fa-

How surprised many new women of the civilized nations would be if told that far from being in advance of all their sisters in the world she is lamentably behind in many vital points.

There exists in a far-off, out-of-the-way place on this globe a community where women have supreme, unquestioned and imperious sway over man. A celebrated Russian traveler, Count Nicolas Novotitch, tells of some strange things from the land of the Ladaehs. These people inhabit territory covering an area of 80,000 square miles known as Middle Tibet, and the count estimates the population at 140,000 souls. Metaphorically speaking, they can be classed among the most elevated tribes in the world, their homes being on an average 20,000 feet above the level of the sea.

The women of the Ladaehs tribe, says Mr. Novotitch, are far in advance, both in physical forces as well as intelligence, of their semi-civilized sisters of other tribes and nations. While as a rule they are below medium height, their figures are of exquisite symmetry and grace. The rareness of the mountain air gives them an unusually clear complexion, of which they are very proud. They have eloquent mouths, with excellent teeth, and their faces are continually wreathed with smiles. Their disposition matches this make-up, being merry and amiable. They are extremely neat and fond of prinking. Though on account of the high and rigorous climate they spend a great deal of the time bathing. In their costumes they show a charming inclination for the picturesque blue.

They will often wear many necklaces and many hued fabrics with handsome though somewhat colorful furs in the most bewitching fashion. They know how to show off and heighten their personal charms to the best advantage, and are inadequately proud of their dazzling white necks.

One would think that with such an example the men would be the personification of gallantry and rich in physical quilt. If one meets a Ladaeh wearing a shirt he may be at once set down as an ultra swell, as this useful garment is totally unknown save among the very rich. The care bestowed on their persons may better be imagined than described, as Novotitch says they never wash except by compulsion. There is a severe law subjecting a man to heavy fines if he does not wash himself at least once a year!

The men in this place are totally subservient to the rule of the gentler sex. The women dictate the laws which govern the community through the priests, who, almost without an exception, are appointed by themselves. They decide any questions that arise from disputes regarding taxes or other tributary matters enforced by law. All the self-assertiveness on the part of woman-kind among the Ladaehs reaches its culminative point in polyandry (plurality of husbands), which is practiced to the fullest extent among these people. The men have little or no voice in the matter of courtship. The young women make their choice about the standing of the family of which their prospective husband is a member. If a satisfactory sign signifies to the mother of her choice that she wishes him for a "ling-tuk" (lover), consent is always readily obtained and the marriage feast prepared. The bride is then taken to the family support. A wife has the unquestioned prerogative to take into herself as many husbands as she pleases.

Jealousy is something totally unknown among these curious people, and the men are in duty bound to be to them incompensable. The husbands, far from resenting an addition to their circle, greet a new member with unalloyed joy.

Arabian Women in Mourning. Arabian women who have to go into mourning stain their hands and feet with indigo for eight days, and during that time they will drink no milk, on the ground that its white hue does not harmonize with their mental gloom.

The Clenched Fists. Miss Amy—Of course you are familiar with clenched fists?

Home in Bed? Betsy—Yes, Miss Amy, and I think he must have written it just after returning from a summer outing.—Tammany Times.

And the Method of Engraving. The Japanese method of engraving is said to be at least two thousand years old. Pieces made ten centuries ago are still exhibited.

"THE COMMON PEOPLE." As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments, but they want medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

There will be no fall pastures.

AN OLD MAN'S COUNSEL. Mr. Morris Davidson, of Greenville, Ga., says, May 21st 1895: "I have used Royal Genitor for kidney troubles, from which I have suffered from a long time, and in a few days, and it is the only medicine that has ever given me permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it to any one suffering from any kind of kidney trouble. I believe it is the best thing that old people can use for debility and nervousness. KATHLEEN MAVOURNEEN

Every Lover Knows the Strains of This Sweet Song.

But Few Have Heard of the Composer—Prof. F. Nichols Crouch, an Old Man Now Living in Baltimore, Created the Melody.

How many of the millions of people who have listened to the sweet strains of that plaintive old song, "Kathleen Mavourneen," are aware that the song is still living? A famous writer has said: "There is no eloquence there is no poetry like Irish eloquence; there is no wit so keen as Irish wit; there is no melody so sweet and plaintive as Irish melody."

The composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen" is at present at Portland, Me., where he goes every year to visit his old friends. The composer's name is F. Nichols Crouch, and he was born in Devonshire, in the west of England, in July, 1808. His hair is as white as the driven snow, but his frame is still erect and he is as young as ever and his soul as full of music. Music is his life and love, and old as he is, he is continually writing and composing, and the writer listened for some time to sweet melodies and good harmony which he had just made. He is a man who loves sociability, and makes thoroughly enjoyable every hour you are with him listening to his fund of anecdote and reminiscence.

Prof. Crouch has had an eventful life. The story of the writing of "Kathleen" is this: In 1837, when Crouch was nineteen years old, he noticed one day in a British magazine the little poem of "Kathleen Mavourneen," and was struck with the rhythmic beauty of the lines and the tender pathos of the theme. They kept ringing in his head, and one day, while riding about the grounds of the duke of Bedford's castle at Angley, he evolved the melody of "Kathleen," that was destined to be sung by countless generations and almost every tongue.

When he returned to his lodgings he completed the song. It was first sung by himself at a little concert in Plymouth, and after the concert he presented the score and copyright to Mrs.

PROF. F. NICHOLS CROUCH.

Peter Ross, the wife of a music dealer of Plymouth, of whom he was very fond. The music house of Ross failed, and the score was passed to the charge hands of D'Almeida & Co. of London, and they published the song.

It went like wild fire, and edition after edition was exhausted. It has become every country, and language used this simple Irish song, with its softening melody, until hardly a civilized nation remains that does not know sweet "Kathleen."

Fortunes have been made out of this song, the copyright once having sold at auction, after many editions had been published, for $2,500, and many a concert has got rich from its sales. Out of all this vast amount of money the poor old composer has never received a dollar.

Crouch has written many famous songs, but none have approached "Kathleen" in popularity. Some idea of the extent of its circulation can be gained from the fact that thirty-three houses in America alone have published this song.

Prof. Crouch came to America in 1858 with Max Merrett to establish a musical opera in this country, but the scheme was a financial failure.

He then taught music seven years in England, and subsequently resided in London, Washington and New York. He served all through the war in the confederate army of Northern Virginia, and carries the scars of severe wounds now.

He has lived for some years in Baltimore, and it is still his home.

There is something pathetic about this dear old musician. He will never grow old, but will live on in his atmosphere of poetry and music until he joins the choir in the Eternal City, and listens to the harmonies of Heaven.

They Treffer the German Reale. The German celebration of the victories of the war of 1870 have led some of the French papers to institute inquiries with a view of ascertaining the sentiment of the people in the conquered Reichland—Alsace-Lorraine—upon the question of a restoration of that territory to France. The conclusion reached as a result of these inquiries is that the majority of the inhabitants of the Reichland wish to maintain the present conditions, and that henceforth Alsace-Lorraine will be almost purely German in sentiment and aspirations.

Genious Municipal Curiosity. The municipal geographical curiosity of the United States is the little village of Griffon, N. C., which lays claim to more inhabitants than any other village, large or small, in the world. It is located in two counties, three townships, two congressional districts, two senatorial and two judicial districts.

INCREDULOUS ELDERS.

Darkness That May Be Dispelled by the Atlanta Exposition.

According to a story which comes up from Capt. Hal Tabb Walker, a prominent planter of Georgia and a resident of Atlanta, there was much of enlightenment in the southern portion of the state. It seems that a man living in that section was sent on some mission up to Atlanta during the month of July last. While there he saw and was much interested in the making of artificial ice.

Returning home he told of this to his friends, and for all the fact that he is a good church member and up to that time had been a highly respected citizen up to Atlanta during the month of July last. While there he saw and was much interested in the making of artificial ice.

He did his best to defend himself, and at last suggested that a delegation of the most reputable church members go with him to Atlanta, where, he asserted, he would prove his statement to their entire satisfaction. The elders, willing to give him a chance, did select a committee, which with the accused proceeded to Atlanta, and there, of course, they saw that their brother was right and that men, common mortals, did make ice in July.

They all returned home and as quickly as possible a meeting was called to hear the report. When the elders heard the delegation declare, and had the brother before it, that ice was really made in Atlanta in July they arose in their wrath and churched the whole lot of them.

TREE-CLIMBING RABBITS.

Sheep That Love Snails and Insectivorous Birds That Feed on Grass.

It seems almost a stretch of the imagination to think of rabbits climbing trees. Yet in Australia many rabbits have somehow acquired the tree-climbing habit, having been forced, on account of the persecutions of dogs and other animals, to drop burrowing and limited squalls.

An Australian sent to England recently the two front feet of a rabbit that had been killed on an acacia, three yards from the ground, and he wrote in his letter that this was not at all a remarkable thing, and he had often found them, or at least the traces of their claws, on the bark of trees four, five and six yards high.

For a parrot to eat trees is another remarkable thing, and yet the kea of New Zealand has been known to have changed to this article of food from a purely vegetable diet. The trees of the island is that at one time these birds were unable to obtain their usual supply of vegetable food and that in desperation they invaded the "drying rooms" and ate whatever came to hand, finding sheep meat agreeable.

In Ireland almost all the horses are fat eaters, for the reason that grain is scarce there and fish is plentiful.

In England sheep are known who delight in snails. The observation of this fact is never less than one hundred and fifty years.

It is well known that a large number of insectivorous birds become grain eaters whenever they find that they cannot procure their ordinary diet of insects.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adopting the world's best products, to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

The excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly active properties of a perfect laxative, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers, and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 5c and 10c bottles, but it is most effective when taken in the form of a small glass bottle, the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
